Dear Ceann Comhairle,

I am writing to inform you that I am resigning as Teachta Dála for Dublin Bay South, with immediate effect. I will be informing my constituents later this morning and I ask that you might please inform the House at the appropriate time.

It has been a huge privilege to have served in Dáil Éireann for the past ten years, being returned as a TD for Dublin Bay South and for Fine Gael on three consecutive occasions. Every day that I walked through the gates of Leinster House I was excited by what we all, as representatives of the people, might achieve here together, for our citizens and for our country. And every day I did my best to be a good representative – to be honest and hard working.

Please pass on my sincere thanks to all of the staff in the Oireachtas for their dedication and their support over the years. It perhaps wouldn't be appropriate to name individuals, but I would like to single out the Ushers for special mention.

It was a pleasure to work with you personally Ceann Comhairle, both as a Government Minister and as a TD, and I very much appreciated your courtesy when in the Chair. The very best of luck to you and the Members of both Houses for the future.

Sincerely,

Eoghan Murphy
